

2016 summer outing to visit two HPA projects in north London

Our summer outing this year included visits two of our north London projects, Lauderdale House and RADA.

Our project for Lauderdale House in Highgate is currently on site and scheduled for completion in Autumn 2016. The scheme involves the sensitive improvement and conservation of the historic building as well as the addition of a contemporary learning centre and other new facilities so that the building meets the needs of its users now and in to the future.

We gained planning consent in April 2016 for the redevelopment of the existing building and theatre at RADA and the addition of on-site student accommodation. The project is now at the detailed design stage.
